Interests

Energy

Depending on your interests and budget, IEH can provide the level of performance that is right for you. Check the box that most accurately describes what you are looking for:

- Energy efficient: Better design and building materials resulting in a 30-40 percent energy improvement above typical construction.
- Energy optimized: Better heating and cooling systems combined with a small amount of solar panels can reduce your bills by 50-70 percent.
- Zero energy: A zero energy home annually produces as much energy as it consumes.

Green Design

What kind of green building features are important to you? Please indicate your level of interest in the following features.
